JOB POSTING

Madison SWCD Summer Internship Program

Madison Soil and Water Conservation District is seeking a highly motivated student as an intern. The intern will help the District to create and distribute educational materials to connect landowners to the resources they need to create habitat for northern bobwhite, improve water quality and conserve their natural resources. Interns are signed up as NRCS Earth Team Volunteers so that they are allowed to work one on one with NRCS personnel on a daily basis, visiting farms, checking out practices, assisting with conservation plans, and attending meetings/trainings. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.
